Augusto and the turtle

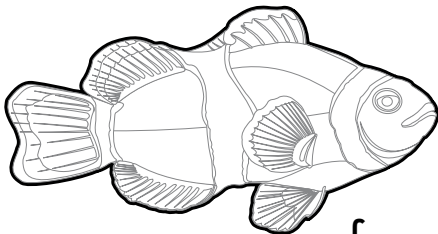

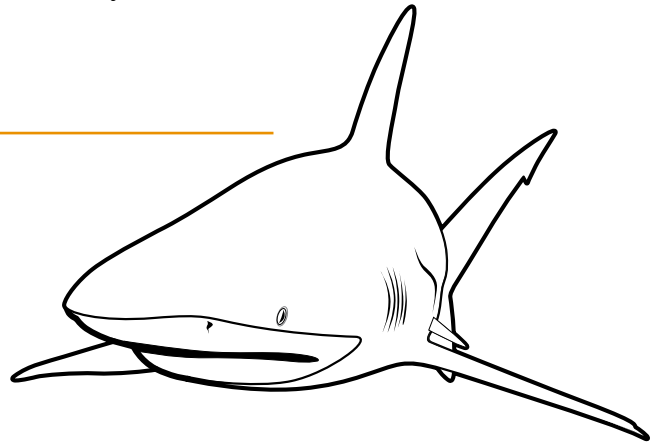

Augusto's story has a happy ending (for him and the turtles!) It's so brilliant when WWF can work with local people to protect animals and their habitats – everything is easier when we all work together.

1 Do you know what these sea creatures are? Colour them in if you like.

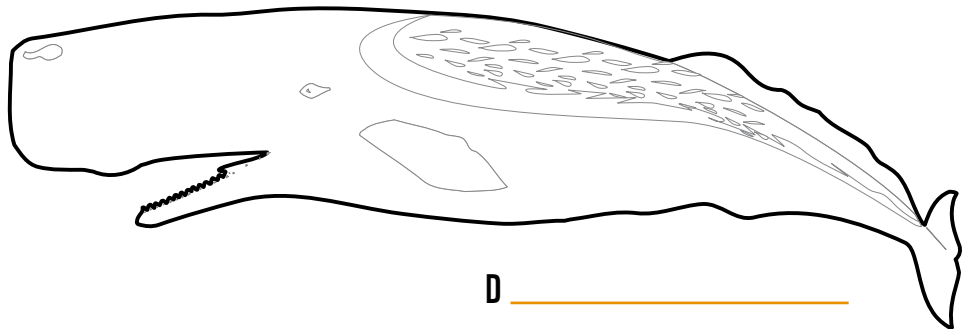

A _____

B _____

C _____

D _____

2 What kind of sea creatures did Augusto catch by accident when he was fishing, before he learnt a new way to fish from WWF?

3 What kind of fishing hook does WWF say is less harmful to turtles? (Circle your answer.)

A. J-shaped hook B. Circular hook

4 Turtles are amazing creatures that have survived on Earth for more than 100 million years! Have a look at the Oceans fact files on the Go Wild website wwf.org.uk/gowild and answer these questions:

A. What is a hawksbill turtle's favourite food?

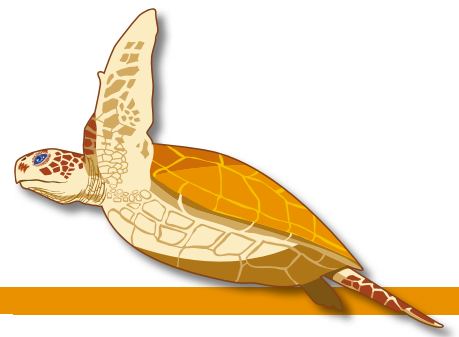

C. What are three of the biggest threats to turtles?

B. How many eggs can female turtles lay at a time?

Story board - Oceans

Augusto and the turtle

Draw a picture for each part of the story.

1

Augusto is a fisherman who lives in Costa Rica.

2

To catch his fish, he uses fishing hooks that are shaped like the letter J.

3

Other sea creatures, including turtles, often get trapped on his hooks.

4

Then Augusto hears about a new way of fishing being developed by WWF and partners.

5

WWF teaches him to change to a circular hook that does not trap turtles.

6

Now Augusto is happy.
